

Bag palletisers with servo control

Ehcolo, Fovling, Denmark, is now offering what are believed to be the world's first bag palletisers with servo control. The system features easily generated pattern software by means of a 15in colour PC touch screen which is very easy to operate. As a result these palletisers are faster and more accurate, although their price has not increased. Thanks to the soft stop and start feature on all equipment, wear problems have been eliminated and two year warranty is provided as standard. An important green feature is that all braking energy is reused, resulting in significant reduction in overall power consumption. www.ehcolo.com

Ehcolo bag palletisers are now available with servo controls