

New managing director at Kalenborn

With effect from beginning of September, Markus Buscher, 46, has taken over as managing director of Kalenborn Kalprotect, the specialist supplier of wear-resistant lining systems made from ceramic, mineral and metallic materials headquartered in Vettelschoss, Germany. He will work alongside Dr Conrad Mauritz and Michael W Rokitta, taking over as CEO when the latter retires from the company next year. Early in his career Buscher set up a ceramic production plant in China, later working as a senior executive for ThyssenKrupp. Before joining Kalenborn he was technical director of the international Amiantit Group, which is active in the worldwide production and sale of piping systems – notably glass fibre reinforced plastic pipes. Kalenborn has 12 subsidiaries and associate companies in Europe, America and Asia, with further expansion planned.
