

Brindley joins Kingfisher

Kingfisher Industrial, Cradley Heath, West Midlands, UK, specialising in a wide range of abrasion-resistant lining systems and services, has appointed Julian Brindley as sales and marketing director. Previously sales manager at Portasilo, he has worked in a professional sales capacity for over 20 years within process industry serving sectors such as bulk solids handling, food processing and the major utilities. He commented: “In my view the combination of products, systems and skills within Kingfisher makes them the partner of choice for plant protection services across the globe. I look forward to the role and helping to take the company to the next level” www.kingfisher-industrial.co.uk

Julian Brindley