

Focus on extrusion and recycling of polyester

In October Kreyenborg Group, Münster, Germany, held the second of its polyester extrusion and recycling forums in Chicago, USA. The first of these well attended annual events had taken place last year in Newcastle, UK. Key figures from a broad range of businesses associated with the polyester, virgin polymer and recycling sectors had been invited to attend the one-day meeting organised 'by the industry for the industry'. Subjects discussed in depth included recycling of post-consumer PET bottles, washing facilities and extrusion processing. An evening networking dinner followed the day of keynote presentations. "This event was a benefit for all interested parties – both the presenting companies and visitors" said managing director Jan-Udo Kreyenborg. www.kreyenborg.de
