

Batch control of specific recipes

(8 October 2007)

Leading UK weighing specialist Practicon of Stoke-on-Trent has supplied a Protrace system to the Wrexham plant of Silvergate Plastics, the top British independent compounding company which specialises in blending additives with base polymers. The Protrace installation weighs out materials to a specified recipe, which are then mixed and transferred to the extrusion plant.

www.practicon.com

Control console of Practicon's Protrace system at Silvergate Plastics