

On Tuesday 5 October, SHAPA (the UK's Solids Handling and Processing Association) will hold the second of its annual Knowledge Conferences. It takes place at the Imago Holywell Park Conference Centre, Loughborough University, Leicestershire, UK.

The one-day event is designed for production/works/site/processing managers and engineers, project managers and consultants involved in the handling/processing of loose bulk solid materials and powders.

Delegates can choose sessions from two parallel streams of presentations. They will receive material from every session, whether individually attended or not.

There will also be an accompanying table-top exhibition.
