

SHAPA October conference: further information

The UK's Solids Handling and Processing Association (SHAPA) has released further details about the timetable for its one-day Knowledge Conference which takes place 5 October at Loughborough University, UK. In addition to a keynote address from the Health & Safety Executive, there will be two parallel sessions, one focusing on solids handling technology and the other on compliance/commercial issues, each comprising six presentations. See also Euro Industry News for the week of 8 June. Full conference information and registration details are available at: www.shapa.co.uk